

Product Operational Manager

At Axlab, we're committed to innovation and excellence in every product we bring to market. Our mission is to implement innovation that matters creating tomorrow's pathology labs', clinics, and operating rooms, and we're looking for a talented product operational manager to join our team.

We seek an enthusiastic colleague to join the Axlab Innovation team. The team is responsible for the current BiopSafe® Biopsy Container on the market, developing new products, and incorporating OEM products for operating rooms and pathological labs.

Your role is to oversee the current BiopSafe product. As the product operational manager, you will be responsible for contacting the manufacturing site, handling incoming questions and tasks, and ensuring that the products comply with relevant quality requirements in cooperation with the QA team. New product development implementation and product change implementation will also be a part of the job.

This job includes:

- Daily operation and supply management.
- Oversee the QC laboratory.
- Update, maintain, and review technical documents like labels, IFU, SDS, etc.
- Update of risk assessments of products.
- Assist in planning, executing, and reporting verification and validation activities, stability, and transport tests.
- Production planning
- Being part of the production expansion
- Complaint investigation

The job consists of different tasks carried out individually and in close collaboration with the rest of the team. You will also work closely with QA, sales, marketing, and the main CMO.

Your qualifications:

- Hold a technical or bachelor in production, biotechnology, or equivalent.
- Preferably, at least 3 years of relevant experience in the industry working with the production of medical consumables.
- A basic understanding of medical device product development and design control is a plus.
- Fluent in English (written and oral).
- General good business and process understanding
- Knowledge of Production tools is an asset.

The personal competencies we are looking for in our new colleague are the following:

- You can work independently and are self-driven with strong collaboration skills.
- Outgoing, communicative, and not shy about speaking up.
- As you can expect to work on several tasks in parallel, it is essential that you can navigate in an environment with various projects and stakeholders and that you can drive and execute tasks with short deadlines.
- As an individual, you are flexible and can meet timelines while managing multiple activities. Ideally, you know about product development.

Axlab offers:

An exciting international position in a value-based company. You will have a great influence, and the work environment is informal; we value teamwork and a solution-oriented approach. Salary based on experience, pension, and health insurance is also a part of the package.

We call for interviews on an ongoing basis, send your application not later than March 15. We look forward to receiving your application at our mail address . Please contact Ditte Bjerre, Technical Product Manager, at ditte@biopsafe.com or 24424501 for questions.